MECHANICAL DESIGN RELIABILITY AND OPERATING PROFICIENCY The B Series is housed in a new, synthetic engineered aluminum case with a laser-etched IDU-2850UG logo and the words "B Series" molded into the case. With its innovative design and versatility, the B Series will make your system stand out. Description: The Homegroups feature allows you to automatically join a network that will be recognized by your other Windows 7-powered Windows 7 PCs or other devices. Let's say I have a NAS that I use to share files to other devices, and I want my other Windows 7 PCs to also have the NAS available. For more information about the Homegroups feature, follow these steps. Windows 7 Homegroup Get networked internet access to your home network from anywhere in the house using Windows Home Group the easiest, most secure way to share files, printers, and devices between your computers. This feature is only available with Windows 7 Home Premium, Pro, or Ultimate. Windows 7 homegroup A BitLesson 1_How To Create Homegroups In Windows HomeGroup 1.x And 2.x. Homegroup is the very first tool that Microsoft created when creating Windows HomeGroup. It enables you to share an internet connection and printers, and create sub-groups inside your main group so that you can share files, printers, and home network devices between the groups. This feature allows you to enjoy the advantages of a LAN, and also provides network access to the Internet from the home network. When Windows 7 was first launched, there were not many operating systems that could run this type of software, and only Mac OS X and Linux operating systems could be run as a server. Select a location to create your Homegroup. Create a Homegroup. Windows Server Home Edition 2009 (Windows Server 2008 Service Pack 2) Windows Home Server can help you join a home network. Select the type of homegroup you want to create.
